

Michigan Pain Consultants to open a state-of-the-art clinic

March 1, 2006

BIG RAPIDS — Michigan Pain Consultants is opening a new state-of-the-art clinic, in late May, located near the US-131 exit in Big Rapids. Michigan Pain Consultants has had a presence in the Big Rapids area as it has been a part of the Mecosta County Medical Center since 1998. The new location will give MPC more space in order to continue to treat both chronic and acute pain conditions.

The new clinic will house three pain physicians: Steve Winston, Thomas Basch and Kevin Fitzgerald, as well as a physician's assistant, an addictionologist and a physical therapist. The facility will be fully equipped with an aqua-therapy pool.

Founded in 1984 and based in Grand Rapids, Michigan Pain Consultants is one of the nation's leading full-service pain management practices specializing in the diagnosis, treatment and relief of chronic and acute pain syndromes. The practice operates eight full-service, community-based pain management centers throughout Western Michigan.
