

Synergy Physical Therapy Group, LLC

Alicia Canos-Torres PT MOMT

Alicia graduated from Universidad de Valencia, E.U. de Fisioterapia in Spain in 1988 and has practiced Physical Therapy both in Spain and the United States. She moved to the United States in 1994, and has been working as a therapist in outpatient settings since her arrival.

In 1991, after undergoing intensive training on the Katharina Schroth Method in Europe under Dr. Manuel Rigo, Alicia became a Certified Therapist in the Schroth Method for the Three Dimensional Treatment of Scoliosis.

Upon coming to the United States she enrolled in a 2 year Manual Therapy program with Synergy Physical Therapy Rehabilitation Director, Sakari Perttula. She graduated in 1997 with a Master's in Orthopedic Manual Therapy by the Ola Grimsby Institute.

Alicia joined Synergy Physical Therapy in 2006 and adds tremendous strength to the team. Alicia has fantastic Manual Therapy skills. She has taught as an Adjunct Professor at Grand Valley State University in both the Manual Therapy and Advanced Manual Therapy classes and has collaborated with several research projects for doctoral level students.

Alicia enjoys the challenge to work with Chronic Pain patients. She has also developed the Scoliosis Program at Synergy, based on the Schroth Method and implemented with her extensive knowledge of Manual Therapy to further help with mobility and pain management as needed.

Synergy Physical Therapy Group is a leader in West Michigan in manual therapy and management of orthopedic and chronic pain conditions. Our Big Rapids location also specializes in aquatic therapy.
